APPENDIX A

INFORMATION ITEM 1

SUBJECT: REPORT: WORKFORCE AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

2017-18 Year in Review:

The majority of the activities in the Office of Workforce & Economic Development (W&ED) focused on the Strong Workforce Program (SWP). Currently the Office of Workforce is administering three overlapping performance years of SWP, through 2020. Inclusive of other grants and contracts, SMC’s W&ED office is administering nearly 20 million in grant funding and contracts.

Part 1: Strong Workforce Program (SWP)

To develop more workforce opportunities and lift low-wage workers into living-wage jobs, California took a bold step in 2016 to create one million more middle-skill workers. At the recommendation of the California Community College Board of Governors, the Governor and Legislature approved the Strong Workforce Program, adding a new annual recurring investment of $248 million to spur career technical education (CTE) in the nation’s largest workforce development system.

Grouped into seven areas targeting student success, career pathways, workforce data and outcomes, curriculum, CTE faculty, regional coordination and funding, this leading-edge state workforce & economic development program is driven by “more and better” CTE. The “more” is increasing the number of students enrolled in programs leading to high-demand, high-wage jobs. The “better” is improving program quality, as evidenced by more students completing or transferring programs, getting employed or improving their earnings.

This new ongoing funding is structured as a 60 percent Local Share allocation for each community college district and a 40 percent Regional Share determined by a regional consortia of colleges to focus on the state’s seven macro-economic regions. SMC belongs to the Los Angeles/Orange County Consortia of Community Colleges, which is governed by the LAOCRC. Both the Local and Regional Share require local stakeholders to collaborate with each other, industry and local workforce development boards. While 2016-17 was spent planning and preparing for the Strong Workforce Program, 2017-18 and 2018-19 focus on execution and evaluation.

SMC was selected as project lead and administrator over the Regional CTE Marketing and Innovation Initiative, the Center for Competitive Workforce (CCW), and the CA Cloud Computing Program in partnership with Amazon Web Services (AWS), which are detailed below.

A. SMC Local SWP Initiatives

1. Round 1 Local Share (FY 16-17 to be expended by Dec. 2018)- $836,172: The CTE Committee unanimously agreed to continued investments to serve all CTE programs. These include, but are not limited to CTE marketing, professional development, new program development, industry forums (including production equipment), faculty professional development, and an industry engagement/job placement center and career pathways.

- a. Program Highlight: CTE Marketing Round 1 Local Share: CTE faculty has embarked on an ambitious effort to design a comprehensive ongoing marketing campaign to highlight and promote all CTE disciplines at SMC. After much market research and cross campus collaboration, it was determined that multi-year investments are needed to communicate the importance of CTE and middle-skill career education. A comprehensive digital marketing campaign is currently being developed with Local Share of SWP funds that compliment similar efforts currently being executed by SMC at the regional level. Sustained investments are intended to impact and improve CTE enrollment, completion, transfer success and job placement rates. Communicating the value of CTE-workforce programs and how students can obtain their short- and long-term career objectives is critical.
2. Round 2 Local Share (FY 17-18 to be expended by Dec. 2019) - $1,229,749: CTE Committee agreed to continued investments in marketing, business engagement, professional development, work-based learning/experiential learning, new program development and maintenance, industry forum (equipment at CMD), strategy and innovation.
3. Round 3 Local Share (FY18-19 to be expended by Dec. 2020) - $1,322,641: Will be allocated based on CTE Committee votes at the January, 2019 CTE meeting.

B. SMC-Led SWP Regional Initiatives

1. California Cloud Workforce Project (Amazon Web Services & SMC): Through a partnership with AWS, which began under the LA HI-TECH grant, SMC CS faculty (Professor Howard Stahl) developed new curriculum designed collaboratively with AWS Educate, with the support of subject matter experts from AWS and other Los Angeles based tech companies. The programming aims to equip students with cloud skills needed for careers in the tech and other industries. The practical application of skills and industry certifications necessary for entry level jobs makes a cloud computing program appropriate for community colleges to enhance their existing IT, computer science, business or web design programs integrating cloud managed services.

SMC is leading the California Cloud Workforce consortium of 19 community colleges in L.A. funded with SWP Regional round 2 & 3 funds. SMC curriculum was shared with 18 other community colleges in the Los Angeles area and most are currently developing and implementing their Cloud Computing programs. To further develop the career pathway, each college will partner with at least one high school to fully develop a K-14 Cloud Computing Pathway. In Spring 2018 SMC partnered with Roosevelt High School and offered a Cloud Computing Saturday Academy for high school students. Access to these type of early college opportunities allow students to begin the career exploration process and allows students to begin obtaining hands on technical skills. SMC is currently exploring opportunities to expand these partnerships with other local high schools.

Since April, 2018 SMC has organized several regional events to build a community of practice for the California Cloud Workforce project with technical assistance provider, Career Ladders Project (CLP).

2. CTE Regional Marketing & Innovation: SMC is the fiscal and project lead for all 19 colleges in the LAOCRC for Marketing and Innovation. Marketing in consumer-packaged goods companies is called brand management. The brand management approach to marketing is an effective way to combat competition and to protect and grow a brand. Brand management has three essential pillars: strategy, innovation (product), and marketing. The methodology outlined in the marketing plan, mirrors the methodology used in consumer-packaged goods by companies like Nestle, Smuckers, Kraft, Proctor & Gamble and others to grow and protect their brands. In recent years, for-profit schools and market driven non-profits have adopted this model to grow market share in education. To compete in the education landscape, community colleges need to include the other pillars of brand management: strategy and innovation. The marketing budget is broken down to allocate money across all 3 pillars.

The marketing plan includes all areas of the Strong Workforce recommendations. The following is a summary of the plan as it relates to the 7 main areas of the task force recommendations:

- a. Recommendation 1: Student Success: The team will rely on coordinated efforts with guided pathways as this topic mainly falls under their scope of work.
- b. Recommendations 2 & 3: Career Pathways and Workforce Data and Outcomes. These areas fall under guided pathways and/or efforts currently underway at the CCW (Center for Competitive Workforce). The team will work closely with guided pathways and the CCW on those topics.
- c. Recommendations 4, 5, & 6: Curriculum, CTE Faculty, and Regional Coordination. The focus of the plan is on recommendations 4,5 & 6. The plan focuses on regional innovation (curriculum development and classroom experience) with industry partners and consumer insights included in the design process. Curriculum innovation will incorporate insights from the strategy and market research work to ensure that new curriculum is aligned with industry needs and consumer demand.
- d. Recommendation 7: Funding. Efforts are underway to address sustainable funding.

Most of the marketing plan will be sourced to vendors capable of delivering the brand management model for all 19 L.A. community colleges in the LAOCRC. Phase 1 of the marketing plan is to gain a deeper understanding of the changing landscape and competitive threats through strategy work. The strategy component will allow the team to determine where innovation is necessary. Phase 1 also includes extensive market research with former and prospective students to gain an understanding of the attitudes and beliefs towards education and the community college brand. During the fall semester, the board has been presented with consent agenda items related to the vendor contracts to support both, the strategy work and market research, including:

- a. Approval to release an RFP to source a marketing research firm.
- b. Strategic consulting in the area of comprehensive digital marketing campaigns.
- c. Comprehensive research on the increasingly competitive education and training space, and strategic consulting on how the Community College's traditional model and "product" offering must adapt to ensure the sustainability and relevance of open access institutions.

These foundational pieces are necessary prior to innovation work or marketing campaign development. Phase 2 will be informed by Phase 1 and it includes innovation work and ad campaign development (marketing). The marketing work will include a heavy emphasis on digital advertising. The recommendation for a digital approach is based on the state's advertising results.

3. Center for a Competitive Workforce (CCW): Housed at the Los Angeles County Economic Development Corporation (LAEDC), CCW is a partnership of the 19 L.A. regional community colleges in the L.A. | O.C. Regional Consortium, LAEDC, Los Angeles Area Chamber of Commerce, and the Center of Excellence for Labor Market Research at Mt. San Antonio College. The Center's mission is to better align supply and demand data with labor market information, support industry-driven career education and workforce development programs, and strengthen industry engagement across our region's talent development systems with the goal to train, educate and upskill a more competitive workforce in L.A. County for the knowledge-intensive industries that will come to dominate our economic future. This work will also address the talent gaps some employers face, and help balance the supply of skilled graduates with the projected demand of local employers, a balance which helps both job-seekers and local firms. Contributing to the deployment of a powerful research program, CCW convenes regional industry advisory councils and builds strong business intermediary systems that will: 1) support data-based, industry validated CTE programs, aligned to the regional economic needs; 2) knowledgeably and proficiently educate and connect students to the skilled labor force; 3) connect colleges to regional businesses to facilitate increased work-based learning, faculty professional development, and student employment.

C. SMC-Participating SWP Regional Initiatives

1. SWP Regional Round 1 (FY 16-17 to be expended by Dec. 2018): Funding for the regional share was competitive among the 19 L.A. regional community colleges in the L.A. | O.C. Regional Consortium (LAOCRC). All were required to submit proposals that included other colleges that filled unmet labor needs in the LA region. SMC was able to secure regional funding to support SMC's Entrepreneurship, ECE/Teacher Preparation Pipeline, Energy, Construction and Utilities, Global Trade and Logistics, Respiratory Therapy – Advanced Practice Neonatal Pediatric Respiratory Care, Radiation Technology, Cloud Computing, Graphic Design – User Experience (UX) 2+2+2, Digital Marketing, and Career Pathways programs. CTE faculty are participating in consortia day-to-day activities.
2. SWP Regional Round 2 & 3 (FY17-18/18-19 to be expended by Dec. 2020): Round 2 & 3 of the SWP regional share were also competitive among the 19 community colleges in Los Angeles. Two program cycles were funded simultaneously. SMC secured regional funding to support SMC's Entrepreneurship, ECE/Teacher Preparation Pipeline, Energy, Construction and Utilities, Global Trade and Logistics, Cloud Computing, Career Pathways, Business Engagement, and Advanced Transportation programs. CTE faculty are participating in consortia day-to-day activities in the L.A. region.

A full SWP report with program highlights for Round 1 -3 projects in these areas are forthcoming.*

Part 2: W&ED Grants, Perkins, Contracts, and Projects

A. Business Engagement and Job Placement

SMC is a major partner on one of the Regional Strong Workforce Programs focused on Business Engagement and Job Placement, and their impact on SWP metrics relating to wage gains, job placements, and placements in field of study. This project is meant to test models and share best practices of our partners across the consortia. SMC co-leads two work groups:

1) Private-public partnerships and

2) Technology platforms. In addition, with the use of Local SWP funds, W&ED is working with the CTE Committee chair and faculty who have expressed great interest in developing processes and tools that support their challenges and interests in the area of business engagement. With these objectives at the campus and regional level, W&ED continues to be at the center of the conversation, developing and testing innovative ways to institutionalize the benefits of these critical relationships. Employers want to engage with colleges investing in the development of career pathways, inform and up-skill faculty on shifting skill requirements, validate skill competencies, create work-based learning for students, promote joint investment in new program development and credentialing, and ultimately gain direct access to an industry-informed, pipeline of talent that will meet their hiring needs. W&ED's Business Engagement Initiative assists in this effort by aiming for a comprehensive relationship management process with which to engage employers.

B. Employment Training Panel (ETP) and Industry-based Contract Education

SMC is executing its 5th ETP contract with the State of California's Employment Training Panel, in the amount of $949,688, through March of 2020. Using these funds, SMC administers customized training programs that off-set the high cost of employee-based training employers would otherwise be forced to finance and develop to maintain a high-performance workforce. SMC has trained more than 3000 employees at over 46 area companies, and employer client surveys have shown increases in employee productivity, process efficiencies, and overall revenue. The ETP employer training program has also provided the opportunity for SMC faculty to provide their expertise within the context of the corporate training platform, simultaneously building the SMC brand as a premier provider of industry-based educational programming. The "up-skilling" of incumbent workers is expected to grow substantially as companies are faced with the challenges of new digital platforms and shifts to automation.

C. Pathways - High School, Community and Industry Engagement: LA HI-TECH and beyond

SMC continues to work closely with local area high schools to develop stronger K-14/16 career pathways that lead to SMC programs and ultimately provide clearer paths to careers. This type of collaboration and engagement provides high school students an opportunity to begin the career exploration process and develop a career relevant skill set, while earning early college credit through dual enrollment. SMC completed its fourth year in this CA Career Pathways Trust (CCPT) grant, LA HITECH, and has offered 80 dual enrollment sections in ICTE (Information, Communications, Technology, Entrepreneurship) Pathways including over 1,900 course enrollments since the grant began. Dual enrollment courses have been offered at six area high schools, which include Santa Monica, Malibu, Beverly Hills, Crenshaw, Palisades Charter, and Venice.

Best practices, processes, and strong high school partnerships have been formed with the support of this grant and SMC continues to find ways to continue to grow dual/concurrent enrollment early college programs. W&ED works closely with other Academic Affairs administrators to ensure high school partnerships are strong and effective student support services are provided to students enrolled in dual enrollment programs. Two part-time counselors are funded work closely with high school counselors and administrators to ensure dual enrollment students are supported with counseling services including enrollment assistance, orientation, early alert, retention, and student transition planning. Dual enrollment counseling is provided on site at local high schools, including Santa Monica and Malibu High Schools.

W&ED worked in collaboration with Community Relations to develop and support the launch and pilot of the SMC Media & Tech Summer Experience geared at high school students interested in taking college courses in areas like Film, Media, Photography, Computer Science, and Cloud Computing. This concurrent enrollment opportunity attracted over 150 high school students and included opportunities for students to meet with and talk to professionals in local media and design career fields while also exploring their own career goals. These interactive Career Connection Friday events included a career counseling workshop, tour of local digital media company Awesomeness TV, a tour and IxD/UX career panel at Hulu, and a Hack Day which included workshops on data science and more.

D. Perkins IV

SMC received $743,056 for the 18-19 program year. The District has maintained a strong record of meeting negotiated targets for performance with this funding. Every program being considered for funding annually must review their Core Indicators (CI) and address how the CI's will be improved upon with Perkins funds. Data indicates that employment outcomes could improve across all CTE programs. Therefore, SMC leverages Perkins funds with Strong Workforce funds to develop stronger business engagement practices. New and seasoned CTE faculty need professional development and externships to align curriculum offerings and address the needs of business and industry. Centralized employer engagement is needed to facilitate industry/college relationships, validating skill competencies, creating work-based learning opportunities for students, and conducting outreach to local businesses that will hire SMC talent to help their businesses thrive. Faculty professional development has been expanded four-fold in order to ensure faculty are ready to teach state-of-the-art skills that students need to compete in the current market place. Faculty are mastering the competencies required for current jobs in the regional economy, such as cloud computing, marketing, business, cyber security, allied health, ECE, sustainable tech, digital media, GTL, gaming, cosmetology, photography, among other CTE fields. Curriculum, course outlines, and student learning outcomes, are all reevaluated and enhanced on an iterative basis, as required by this federal funding source.
