VII. Discussion Items

a. Senate Goals and Objectives (J. London)

J. London presents a goal related to equity and redesign that was drafted by the Equity and Diversity Committee, who thought it was important for the language of the senate goal to reflect SMC's Student Equity Plan. Senators discuss the role that data should play in this goal and whether a focus on "equity gaps" elides the underlying issue of racism.

The Professional Development Committee and the leaders of The Center are drafting a proposed goal related to professional development, and the Distance Education Committee drafted a proposed goal related to distance education.

The Executive Committee and Department Chairs Committee are working on a goal related to enrollment and retention. Senators discuss the need to find out what students are thinking when they're signing up for classes.

Senators also discuss the brevity and broadness of these goals. J. London says he'd like to keep them short and sweet. Some members wonder if they'll be difficult to accomplish if they aren't more specific, but other senators note that individual committees can craft goals, based on the overarching senate goals, that are more specific and actionable.

VIII. President's Report

a. J. London reports that the Academic Senate budget is still a work in progress and that he's considering having VPs visit the senate to have discussions with us. He'll create a survey requesting items for VPs to address when they visit.

He's also hopeful that we'll soon receive a recruitment list, and he is developing a committee to rank the following year's hiring list. The timeline for hiring seems to be continually pushed further back into the academic year, which is a concerning trend.

Motion to continue conversation about the 75/25 goal and hiring prioritization at the next Executive Committee meeting.
