

How to Establish California Residency at Santa Monica College for Tuition Purposes

A Presentation By the Office of Admissions & Records

What is Residency?

- ▶ When you apply to any California Community College, the school is required to classify you as either Resident, or a Nonresident.
- ▶ Your residency classification is based on a variety of factors such as your address, educational history, citizenship status, and how long you have lived in California.
- ▶ Resident tuition prices are offered to students who have established residency in California more than one year prior to the semester they are attending. Non-Resident students are charged an increased cost per unit when enrolling.
- ▶ Simply attending college is not enough to establish residency, students must demonstrate a combination of physical presence, intent to remain in California, and financial independence from out of state parents or guardians.
- ▶ Your residency status determines the price you pay per unit:

Winter/Spring 2024 Nonresident Tuition Rate: $386 per unit

Winter/Spring 2024 CA Resident Tuition Rate: $46 per unit

Combination of Nonresident tuition, nonresident surcharges, and enrollment fees

... but I'm from California!

- ▶ Any out of state activity indicated within the last two years on the CCCApply application will trigger a non-resident determination upon Admission - which means students from California who left temporarily to attend an out of state university will likely be admitted as a non-resident after applying.
- ▶ Students who fall into this category will have to provide proof that they did not take additional steps to establish residency in the other state while attending college, such as providing a tuition statement showing you were charged as a non-resident in that other state.
- ▶ Students who attended and completed school in California, but left to another state, may be eligible for a temporary non-resident tuition exemption upon returning (also known as AB-540). The AB-540 Affidavit can be accessed online at www.smc.edu/Forms, high school transcript showing a minimum of three year of attendance and graduation from a California school are required.

I have been admitted as a nonresident, can that be changed?

- ▶ Yes! Students can have their residency status adjusted up until the start of the semester they are attending by submitting a Residency Classification Questionnaire.
- ▶ You can find the Residency Classification Questionnaire online at www.smc.edu/Forms - click 'Student Forms' and select the Residency Questionnaire, you will be required to log in to your SMC network account to access the form.
- ▶ The Questionnaire will ask you several questions regarding where you have lived, worked, voted, filed taxes, attended college, as well as your citizenship status and any financial dependence with out of state parents or guardians.
- ▶ At the end of the questionnaire you will be asked to upload supporting documentation showing that you have resided in California more than one year from the start of the semester you are attending.

Required Documentation

Simply attending college in California DOES NOT satisfy residency requirements!

- ▶ To establish California Residency for tuition purposes the student must provide a minimum of three documents to the Admissions and Records Office, with one from each document category - Physical Presence, Intent, and Financial Independence.
- ▶ The documents from each category must be dated at least one year and one day from the start of the semester you are seeking to become a resident.

Example:

Spring 2024 begins February 12th 2024

Spring 2024 documents must be dated on or before February 11th 2023

- ▶ Students who are 19 years of age or older at the start of the semester must provide documentation in their name. Students who are below the age of 19 at the start of the semester should provide their parent's documents.
- ▶ Don't put it off! Taking the initiative to establishing residency when you first move to California could save you thousands of dollars down the road.

Acceptable Documents

- ▶ Remember: You need to provide a minimum of three separate sets of documents, with one from each area.
- ▶ Although a single document may satisfy multiple areas, it only counts as one document. You are required to provide three separate documents.

Ex: California Tax returns can be used to meet any of the three areas, but you would still be required to provide two additional documents.

Financial Independence

- ▶ The State of California has laid out very specific definitions of what they determine to be Financial Independence, failure to meet the requirements will result in a denial of your Residency Questionnaire.
- ▶ Tax Dependency: Being claimed on Federal or State taxes by a parent or guardian that resides outside of the state of California will result in an automatic nonresident determination. Speak to your parents now so that they are aware of this and do not claim you on future tax filings.
- ▶ Financial Contributions: Receiving $750 or more from an out of state parent or guardian is considered financial dependence and will result in an automatic nonresident determination.
- ▶ For purposes of establishing residency, we will be scrutinizing the last year leading up to the term you seeking reclassification.

Citizenship Status Requirements

- ▶ You do NOT need to be a US citizen to establish California Residency so long as you are in the country under a status that allows you to establish residency
- ▶ Permanent residents, people seeking asylum or refugee status, DACA recipients, as well as a variety of immigrant visas are eligible to establish California Residency
- ▶ You will be asked to fill in your citizenship status information on the Residency Classification Questionnaire and to attach copies of the applicable citizenship documents along with your Proofs of California Residency - Evidence of approved status more than one year prior to start of semester is required.
- ▶ If your immigration case is under review please provide a clear photo or scan of your passport (entry stamps and Visas), along with any filing paperwork, so our Specialists can fully review your eligibility. As always, the more information we have the easier it is for us to determine your eligibility.

Timelines

- ▶ Santa Monica College is proudly home to thousands of out of state students, which means that we receive a lot of students seeking to reclassify their residency status.
- ▶ Given the amount of information each student is required to submit, the review period for Residency Classification Questionnaires is up to 14 business days.
- ▶ Submit your documents as early as possible to avoid delays in processing, especially as the semester payment deadline approaches! SMC does not allow for fee postponements. If your tuition rate isn't adjusted before the payment deadline you may have to pay the nonresident tuition cost and wait to be refunded the difference in 6-8 weeks, if approved.
- ▶ Residency Classification Questionnaires must be submitted by the start of the semester to be considered. Failure to submit it on time will result in being responsible for any nonresident fees owed that semester.

Submitting Documents

- ▶ Santa Monica College recently transitioned over to a new web based forms system called “Dynamic Forms”, which allows students to submit and track a variety of student forms through an easy to manage website.
- ▶ Visit www.smc.edu/forms to access the forms, you will be required to sign in to your SMC network account before accessing the form.
- ▶ We require a clear photo or scan of all documents, if you do not provide clear copies you will be asked to resubmit the information.
- ▶ If you do not have access to a scanner, most smart phones have the capability to scan documents, either through native features or a third party app.
